The background is a vibrant tropical scene. It features several palm trees with long, green fronds. There are also various other tropical plants, including large green leaves and colorful flowers like pink hibiscus, yellow hibiscus, and a pink anthurium. Two coconuts, each cut in half to show the white flesh, are placed on the left and right sides of the sign. The sign itself is made of horizontal wooden planks and is held up by two wooden posts. The text is centered on the sign.
